SALT LAKE'S

Modern Furniture Store.

To the observer who has watched carefully the upbuilding of this city and the advent of new mercantile establishments, there is nothing more strikingly noticeable than the remarkable progress made by The Greenwald Furniture company.

Commencing little more than a year ago, in a building 55x90, the advance has been phenomenal. The never-failing policy of honest and courteous treatment of customers, combined with strict modern business principles, have brought this store, by leaps and bounds, to the foremost ranks of Utah's great stores.

In March of this year the company was incorporated, with H. A. Leipsiger, president; Carl S. Schmidt, vice president; J. A. Greenwald, secretary, and Ferd Strouse, treasurer.

Under the able management of these gentlemen, who are thoroughly conversant with every detail of their business, the buying and handling of their wares are conducted in the most economical and systematic manner, thereby offering every advantage in favor of their customers.

The first quarters have long been inadequate to the steadily increasing trade and the past week has seen the removal into the spacious new building erected especially for them at 33-35 West Third South.

Now, with three floors and basement of a building 65x140, feet the genial management will be better able to attend the needs of their patrons in the manner they desire.

Although it will be two or three weeks before everything is in perfect order, the regular business is being carried on. When all arrangements are complete and the enormous stock placed in position, it will be an emporium of house furnishings and a monument of enterprise of which every Salt Lake should feel proud.
